THINK IT OVER

Either Mr. Taft or Mr. Wilson
Will be Elected President

In Kentucky, the Progressive Party will fall far short of securing the required number of votes to qualify it as a political party within the provisions of our election laws. This is indicated clearly by their insignificant registration, and by the reports received by the Committee, of conditions throughout the State.

Since the middle of September, the DRIFT HAS BEEN STEADILY TOWARD THE RE-ELECTION OF MR. TAFT and is INCREASING IN FORCE as the election draws near.

The reason for this is apparent to any one giving the matter a moment's consideration. CONTINUOUS EMPLOYMENT IS AT HAND for all those who desire to find it and REMUNERATIVE PRICES REWARD THE PRODUCERS. THIS MEANS COMFORT FOR THE PEOPLE GENERALLY and accounts also for the absence of political excitement.

THE VIOLATION OF THE MOST SACRED TRADITION OF THE REPUBLIC; opposition to a THIRD TERM as President for any man, and the ECONOMIC THEORIES and VITAL CONSTITUTIONAL CHANGES involved in the candidacy of Mr. Roosevelt, are issues of extreme importance, but the fact that HIS DEFEAT IS CONCEDED BY ALL, except his most ardent supporters, has to a large extent eliminated them from consideration.

THE RACE BEING BETWEEN THE REPUBLICAN AND DEMOCRATIC CANDIDATES; our confidence that the good judgement of the people will lead them to RE-ELECT MR. TAFT is based upon the record; THE REPUBLICAN PARTY BELIEVES IN, AND WILL ADHERE TO THE PROTECTIVE TARIFF SYSTEM.

THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY BELIEVES IN TARIFF FOR REVENUE ONLY, which means FREE TRADE, and, if placed in power, will, if true to their platform declaration, seek at once to wipe out and DESTROY ALL ELEMENTS OF PROTECTION in our tariff laws. Their platform declarations of 1892 and 1912 on this question are identical and, in both, a PROTECTIVE TARIFF IS DENOUNCED AS UNCONSTITUTIONAL.

In 1892 the Democratic Party was successful upon this issue and they tried their hand on the tariff and the results is well remembered. DISTRESS, MISERY, WANT AND ACTUAL STARVATION WERE GENERAL THROUGHOUT THE LAND and continued until the election of McKinley and the restoration of the Republican Party to control. They, of course, try to explain and absolve themselves of responsibility for the result, but they cannot deny actual conditions as they existed during their complete control of the executive and legislative branches of our government.

NOW THE COUNTRY PROSPERS. Business prostration in any line exists no where within its borders. The affairs of the government have been economically and efficiently administered. The GOVERNMENT'S CONTROL OF TRUSTS HAS BEEN STRENGTHENED. A surplus remains in the treasury after the payment of all expenses. The trade of the country is larger than at any other period in its history.

A Republican Administration, with Mr. Taft as its head, has been and is now in charge. WE KNOW WHAT WE HAVE IN 1912. WE KNOW WHAT WE GOT AS A RESULT OF 1892.

Under the one PROSPERITY and PLENTY, under the other DISASTER and DISTRESS.

THE ONLY SAFE COURSE LIES IN HOLDING ON TO THAT WHICH IS GOOD. DANGER LURKS IN A CHANGE. No risk except in a change. Then why take it? A VOTE FOR ROOSEVELT IS WORSE THAN WASTED; it is a vote to take the risk.

SO, MR. VOTER, whatever may be your occupation, THINK IT OVER, while you yet have time, and LET YOUR VOTE SQUARE WITH YOUR JUDGEMENT.

Roosevelt Delegates for Taft

Letter of Wm. Heyburn, President Belknap Hdw. & Mfg. Co., and Roosevelt Delegate from Louisville to the Republican National Convention.

Louisville, Ky., October 25, 1912.

Mr. Chas. L. Scholl,
Louisville, Ky.

My dear Sir:—

Referring to your question as to what candidate I have decided to vote for, for President, at the November election, I would say that I am going to vote for Messrs. Taft and Sherman, whom I regard as the regular nominees for the Republican Party.

I attended the Chicago Convention as a Roosevelt delegate, but from my observation and experience there, I considered it was fortunate for the country and for the Republican Party as well, that Mr. Roosevelt was not nominated. I became convinced that Mr. Roosevelt's candidacy was the result of personal ambition and not for the purpose of furthering any particular policies or principles. I believe that with Mr. Roosevelt's co-operation it was possible for the Progressive element of the Republican Party to have nominated Governor Hadley or Senator Cummins, to have made any changes in the platform that might have been desirable, to have revised the rules so as to eliminate the authority of the National Committee, where ever such authority as they had might be abused, and more important than all, to preserve the integrity and usefulness of the Republican Party.

Mr. Roosevelt's followers, by reason of their passionately stormy methods, used where no principles could possibly be involved with the same vehemence as where principles might be involved, destroyed my confidence in their level-headedness and good judgement. I was well prepared by what I saw at Chicago, for the lack of the sense of proportion that lead to the action of the Roosevelt supporters in undertaking to establish the Progressive Party.

As for myself, I can see no hope of accomplishing progressive measures by this procedure, and grave danger of weakening the influence of the Republican Party for good along many lines.

The Republican platform relative to Tariff policies appeals to me with peculiar force. I have had the advantage of knowing something about the working effect of tariff schedules and tariff policies on business, and, without feeling intolerant of the opinion of other men, am satisfied that the Republican policy of protection is for the general interest as well as general prosperity, I believe that if Dr. Wilson is elected President, he will probably call an extra session of Congress to revise the Tariff, and immediately business will stagnate. The demand for the products of the farm and factory will drop off and the necessary accompaniment to this will be a falling market. If the Tariff schedules are so made as to threaten American producers with serious competition with their foreign producers, I can see no logic in changing the Tariff, hence the program of the Democratic Party becomes a futile one.

No one who is thoughtful can doubt that if the Democratic Party is elected to power by a large majority, as some claim it will be, it will be a very radical free trade, or, "Tariff for revenue only" Party. No honeyed pre-election phrases of Dr. Wilson, delivered in Pittsburg to placate the voter in the district, where protection sentiment is supposed to be extensive, will change this fact. Those who vote for Dr. Wilson, should do it with the full knowledge of what it means, and should not vote for him unless they believe in the tariff for revenue only, which is the real meaning of the Democratic platform and the real intention of the Democratic Party. Those who believe in a protective tariff policy and expect to make their vote effective, should in my opinion, stay with the Republican Party, whether in their opinion it is managed in every detail to suit them or not.

Yours very truly,

William Heyburn.

Letter from Judge B. J. Bethurum, of Somerset, Roosevelt delegate from the Eleventh District to the National Republican Convention.

Somerset, Ky., Oct. 7, 1912.

Mr. H. T. Arterberry,
Tompkinsville, Ky.

Dear Sir:

I am in receipt of your letter of the 4th instant, in which you invite me to make some speeches in Monroe county for the Progressive ticket. In answer to the same will say, that I must decline to do so for the reason that I do not belong to the Third party, but I am a Republican and expect to loyally support that party and its ticket in the coming election.

I was, as you knew, a supporter of Mr. Roosevelt before the Convention at Chicago, and while some things were indulged in at that Convention to bring about the defeat of the Colonel that I do not indorse nor approve, yet, having always affiliated with the Republican organization, and having always been perfectly satisfied with the principles of that party, I cannot now leave the party that has such a glorious record of achievement, and follow Mr. Roosevelt into a new third party, simply because some members of that party have done wrong. While yet young, I was taught by my parents that the Republican party was the one political organization that stood by the rights of the people, that stood for liberty, for progress, that stood for the maintenance of the credit of the country both at home and abroad. I was further taught that this old party was born during a crisis in the nation's history; that it sprang into existence as the champion of the liberty of a shackled race, and not only gave them their liberty, but gave to them the franchise as well. I find that history verifies and confirms all of my early teachings, and that the great party has continued throughout all these years to meet and master the great and difficult problems of government and to skillfully and prudently manage the affairs of our country. No other party can boast of so much. A party with a record like ours should not die, but should live forever. I am one who believes that its mission for good is not spent, is not at an end, but that it will continue in the future, as in the past, to respond to the country's needs. When Colonel Roosevelt decided to withdraw from the Republican party, and form a new and distinct third party, then like Governor Hadley and others of his original supporters, I decided that I could not follow him longer, but would stand by the party of Lincoln, Grant and McKinley, which has bestowed upon me so many honors and favors in the past.

With very kind regards, I am,

Yours sincerely,

B. J. Bethurum.

ROOSEVELTISM

"Who are the leaders of the Roosevelt movement? Show me a man who applied to Taft for an office and did not get it and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man that was in office and was turned out, and in ninety-nine cases out of a hundred I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who fondly imagines that he is a statesman, whose ability has been overlooked and he is compelled to hide his light under a bushel, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who believes in wild and anarchistic ideas, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who desires to destroy our representative form of government erected through blood and tears by our ancestors, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who is trying to produce discontent and trouble among the people, telling them that they do not rule, that they are wiser than their forefathers, that they who are totally untrained in law should direct and control the decisions of courts, that they should be allowed in the speediest and easiest way to change the Constitution whenever they see fit, thus disregarding the rules provided in that great instrument for its amendment, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who has been a boss but been dethroned, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Show me a man who has never been but who desires to be a boss, and I will show you a Roosevelt man. Penrose is denounced because he is charged to be a boss, while Flinn, who has been in the same business but lost out heretofore is embraced as an angel of purity. Barnes is denounced as a boss while Perkins is held up for extravagant admiration. Gallinger is denounced as a boss while Cecil Lyon is idolized. And so it is we hear constant preaching of boss, boss, boss! The greatest boss who ever lived in America is Col. Theodore Roosevelt. For a long time he bossed the Republican Party and when at length he failed he bossed the creation of a new party, bossed his own nomination and is now trying to boss the people. He bossed both branches of Congress as long as he could. He bossed New York when he was Governor and the City of New York when he was Police Commissioner, and yet as great a boss as he was, while President he stood faithfully by Penrose, Aldrich Cannon and others, whom he now abuses. During his term of seven years, notwithstanding he claims the present tariff, which is very much below the rate of the Dingley tariff law in force when he was President, is onerous, he never at any time proposed to Congress to reduce it."

THEN AND NOW.

In the community where we were reared it wasn't respectable not to go to church. I remember distinctly that in my boyhood people who were not affiliated with some church were looked upon as pariahs and outcasts. An infidel was a marked man; one used to be visible in the streets I frequented, and I never passed him without a thrill of horror. Our city was long known as 'a poor theater town,' where only Booth in Hamlet and Jefferson in Rip might be patronized by church-going people who valued their reputations. Yet in the same community no reproach attaches today to the non-church-going citizen. A majority of the men I know best, in cities large and small, do not go to church. Most of them are in nowise antagonistic to religion; they are merely indifferent. Clearly, there must be some reason for this change. It is inconceivable that men would lightly put from them the faith of their fathers through which they are promised redemption from sin and everlasting life.—Meredith Nicholson, in Atlantic Monthly.

Communion With God

By Rev. J. H. Ralston

Secretary of Correspondence Department of Moody Bible Institute, Chicago

TEXT—"And the Lord God called unto Adam, and said unto him, Where art thou? And he said, I heard thy voice in the garden, and I was afraid, because I was naked; and I hid myself."—Genesis III, 9, 10.

The most godly men have found difficulty, at least at times, to preserve the close communion with God which it is their right to enjoy. This communion can only be secured by God and man coming into personal contact. Facts of state and of experience readily prove to man that he and God are often times apart. As personalities, each recognizes that there is some obligation to seek each other, yet the obligation on God's part to seek man is somewhat difficult to understand. Man obviously ought to seek God, he ought to be asking the question, "Where shall I find him?" but God anticipates man in this search and comes frequently and asks, as in the text, "Where art thou?" This being the case, there is presented for our consideration in the text as a whole: (1) God seeking man; (2) Man keeping away from God, by hiding or otherwise; (3) The soul-experience that compels him to move to God.

1. God is seeking man. This is not the normal situation, for man ought to be seeking God with the whole heart, everything else being as nothing in comparison. God is seeking man, not with the intent apparently that he sought Adam in the Garden of Eden, which was for the purpose of reproof, or punishment. God not only is seeking man, but wishes to be sought for by man, as the hymn writer Faber so beautifully sings:

"God loves to be longed for, he loves to be sought.
For he sought us himself with such longing and love!
And he died for desire of us, marvelous thought!
And he yearns for us now to be with his above."

There is not a man away from God but for whom God longs, and will go any distance to find.

"There were ninety and nine that safely lay

In the shelter of the fold,
But one was out on the hills away,
Far off from the gates of gold—
Away on the mountains wild and bare,
Away from the tender Shepherd's care.

"Lord, thou hast here thy ninety and nine;
Are they not enough for thee?
But the Shepherd made answer: 'This of mine, has wandered away from me,
And although the road be rough and steep

I go to the desert to find my sheep.'"
2. But just as prominent as the search of God for man is man's constant refusal to be found. As Adam fled from the Lord, as Jonah tried to get away from the obligation to preach at Nineveh, as the prodigal fled to a far country and wasted his substance in riotous living, so man does today. Touched by the Spirit of God, the church, through its many agencies, is putting forth effort to reach man. Its doors have always been open, and rarely is the church found that does not welcome all classes to its services. In recent years God's people are going out after men in all places where they may be found. The gospel is preached in places not dedicated to divine worship—in tents, on street corners, and elsewhere, and it is difficult for a man within Christendom to get beyond the invitation of the gospel, and yet he will not yield to it.

3. But there is a reason for this as suggested in the text; it is the consciousness of shame, "I was naked and I hid myself." It must be conceded that there are multitudes who do not seem to have God in any of their thoughts, they live apparently as the beasts of the field, they seem to have no consciousness whatever that they are more than creatures of a day, mere ephemera. But the man or woman who may be beguiled to read these words is not such a person. In some way he senses God. He has an intuition, as we might say, which probably teaches him his personal responsibility.

Is that a misfortune? Far from it. It is the dawn of hope. It is the soul-pain that tells of possible return to spiritual health secured through perfect communion with God. Grateful should the man be who thus becomes uneasy, yes, faces God and talks with him. In this day the grace of God is seeking man, not to reprove him only, not to punish him, but to bless him; he is not willing that any should perish.

It may be said that the man who is discovered by God, discovers, or finds, himself; he comes to himself as the prodigal did, and is then not far from starting back to the Father's house. As the cry recently has been with many "Back to Christ," we might say that the cry should now rather be "Back to God."

JUDGE ANDREW J. KIRK.

All Parties Are For Judge Kirk

SO SAY WE ALL OF US.

(Lexington Leader)

THE Louisville Evening Post offers a suggestion which the Leader gladly endorses. It is that all parties unite in supporting Circuit Judge A. J. Kirk for the vacancy on the Court of Appeals bench caused by the resignation of Judge E. C. O'Rear which was filled temporarily by the appointment of Mr. Robert H. Winn by Governor Wilson. Judge Kirk is an ideal selection and is sure of nomination and election no matter what happens in Kentucky or the Nation, but his endorsement by all parties would have a good effect. The Post says on this subject:

"The retirement of all other candidates makes certain the nomination by the Republican party of Judge Andrew J. Kirk, of Johnson county, for the vacancy upon the Kentucky Court of Appeals to be caused by the retirement of Judge R. H. Winn in November. Mr. Kirk is now a Circuit Judge, and one of the best in Kentucky. The district is so overwhelming Republican that even in this year of certain Republican disaster the Republican nominee should win easily. Moreover, Judge Kirk is of the material out of which Appellate Judges should be made. The Democratic party will do a graceful act in not contesting the election, and Wilson, Taft and Roosevelt men can all unite in the promotion of this Judge."

"So say we all of us." We believe the Leader and Post express the sentiment of practically the entire district and that the suggestions offered will be acted upon by the voters of the district.

NEW GOODS THIS WEEK

People all like to be the first to pick new clothing and other goods when they arrive. We know this and that is why we announce from week to week our arrival of new goods.

In our new stock arriving since last week's announcement was a large selection of neckties for both ladies and gentlemen. This gives us a full and complete line and we can offer as nice an assortment as can be found in the city.

Other new goods opened up this week included an assortment of rugs, suit cases and traveling bags, hats of all descriptions, and a big bunch of raincoats.

Just another word about those coats and suits

They are going fast and if you want to get one before they are all picked over we would advise you to come right away.

Also, don't forget that when you want a tailor-made suit ordered that we can give you a better price than any merchant in town. If you do not believe it compare our prices and see

In the District Court of the United States for the Eastern District of Kentucky. In the matter of W. P. Slusher bankrupt, in bankruptcy No. 214.

To the creditors of W. P. Slusher, of Slusher in Bell County and District aforesaid, a bankrupt. Notice is hereby given that on the 3rd day of October 1912 the said W. P. Slusher was duly adjudged bankrupt, and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at Pineville Ky., on the 7th day of Nov 1912 at 9 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, examine the bankrupt, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

This 27 day of October 1912
W. W. Tinsley, Referee in Bankruptcy.

Dog True to Trust.

The Olympia Serenade pavilion at Nottingham, England, having been broken into three times of late, the proprietor procured an Alredale terrier. Early the other morning, as a boy dropped over the fence, the dog seized him by the trousers and held him till the arrival of the watchman, who handed him over to the police.

Union the Victor

Union College 35, Sue Bennett 31, tells the story of the Basket Ball Game played between these two schools Monday afternoon at London. In spite of the fact that the Union boys entered the field dinnerless owing to a late train, they were able to put up a winning fight. The game was a spirited one, but cleanly played.

Quite an ovation was given the victorious team in Chapel Tuesday morning. Members of the team were called out individually and Prof. Brown responded with an enthusiastic account of the game. School spirit ran high for the time.

The summary of the play is as follows:

London	Position	Union
Kinnear	left forward	Brown
Smith	right "	Simms
Davis	center	Faulkner
Johnson	left guard	Carroll
Lewis	right "	Comley

Baskets: Simms, 10; Brown, 4; Faulkner, 1; Kinnear, 6; Smith, 6; Davis, 1.

Fouls thrown: Brown, 5 out of 12; Davis, 5 out of 9.

Referee, Howes; Umpire, Fleece; Scorer, E. Stanfill.

Return game here Nov. 18th.

Domestic Science

Of the many changes brought about in recent years, few have had a greater influence for good than the progress made in scientific cookery.

Any science is systematic knowledge of a given subject, and Domestic Science is systematic knowledge of things pertaining to the household.

A right conception of the conditions under which we live is of vital importance to the housewife. Many of the duties which have been tiresome and difficult, become pleasant and agreeable when one knows how to do them systematically and in the proper way.

In order to be able to select and cook the foods needed for the sustenance and upbuilding of the body, the elements it contains, and the necessary requirements for each element must first be clearly understood. The muscles need nitrogenous, or proteid food for their repair, the bones need mineral foods, while the whole body needs carbohydrates, such as sugar, fats, etc. for warmth. To secure a perfect diet, the housekeeper must know the nature of the foods used, and then blend them in proportions suitable to the age and occupation of the individual, and to the climate in which the family lives. Haphazard methods of cooking will not accomplish the result. Scientific care is as important in the kitchen as in the laboratory.

Imagination's Limitations.
"If an actor imagines that he is a fat man he will appear fat to the spectators," a leading tragedian tells us. It may be so, but we have seen an actor who imagines he was a good actor and did not appear so to the spectators.

Must Keep at It.
It is with many enterprises as with striking fire; we do not meet with success except by reiterated efforts, and often at the instant when we despair of success.—Mme. De Maintenon.

REV. CHAS. SAGER SAYS
Mr. C. A. ABBOTT, August 11, 1909.
Dear Sir: I have known for over 40 years of the effects of Wilson's Remedy (Wilson's Preparation of Hypophosphites and Biotin) in cases of pulmonary trouble. At this point I will say to you what you have not before known of; that as you said, while I was a resident of N. Y. City, I was severely ill with lung trouble. Physicians said I was a consumptive and my family physician told my wife that he thought I could not recover. My attention was directed to the Wilson Remedy, which I used with splendid effect. I have been on my feet and at work ever since my cure. Yours truly,
REV. CHAS. SAGER.
Pastor M. E. Church, Hunter, (Greene Co.) N. Y.
On Dec. 1, 1901, Mr. Sager wrote Mr. Abbott: "My health is very good."
If you will write Mr. Abbott he will gladly furnish you any further information you desire.
